Money may not be able to buy you love, but it can certainly buy a lot of other things. From polished diamonds to priceless works of art, towering feats of architecture to an extremely expensive cheese sandwich, here are some of the costliest objects on Earth... and beyond.

$0–$1,000

- Image: A 100-year-old Cadbury's chocolate bar was bought for £470 ($687) at auction on 25 Sep 2001. It had been taken on Captain Robert Scott's first expedition to the Antarctic in 1901–04 and remained wrapped inside a cigarette tin.

- Cinema ticket: In London, UK, the average price of a cinema ticket as of 29 Oct 2014. It is served on French Pullman champagne bread and accompanied by a white peacock cigarette tin.

- Taxi ride: The average fare of $32.10 (£21.65). The same ride in New Delhi, India, would cost just $1.54 (£1.03).

- Chocolate bar (auction): A 100-year-old Cadbury's chocolate bar was bought for £470 ($687) at auction on 25 Sep 2001. It had been taken on Captain Robert Scott's first expedition to the Antarctic in 1901–04 and remained wrapped inside a cigarette tin.

- Post-it note (auction): A white peacock cigarette tin was bought for £470 ($687) at auction on 25 Sep 2001. It had been taken on Captain Robert Scott's first expedition to the Antarctic in 1901–04 and remained wrapped inside a cigarette tin.

$1,000–$500,000

- Sandwich: The “Quintessential Grilled Cheese” bought for £687 ($986) at auction in 2001. It had been taken on Captain Robert Scott's first expedition to the Antarctic in 1901–04 and remained wrapped inside a cigarette tin.

- Taxi ride: The average fare of $32.10 (£21.65). The same ride in New Delhi, India, would cost just $1.54 (£1.03).

- Cinema ticket: In London, UK, the average price of a cinema ticket as of 29 Oct 2014. It is served on French Pullman champagne bread and accompanied by a white peacock cigarette tin.

- Taxi ride: The average fare of $32.10 (£21.65). The same ride in New Delhi, India, would cost just $1.54 (£1.03).

$500,000–$100 m

- Bicycle (auction): A 5-km (3-mi) taxi ride in the Norwegian capital of Oslo would cost passengers an average fare of $32.10 (£21.65). The same ride in New Delhi, India, would cost just $1.54 (£1.03).

- Taxi ride: The average fare of $32.10 (£21.65). The same ride in New Delhi, India, would cost just $1.54 (£1.03).

$100 m–$500 m

- Taxi ride: The average fare of $32.10 (£21.65). The same ride in New Delhi, India, would cost just $1.54 (£1.03).

> $500 m

- Taxi ride: The average fare of $32.10 (£21.65). The same ride in New Delhi, India, would cost just $1.54 (£1.03).